

THROUGH THE LENS OF BLACK HISTORY

#BLACK HISTORY MONTH

Celebrating and Honoring the African-American experience through film.

Happy Black History Month! This month Humanim celebrates the African-American experience with a film recommendation for each day of the month + the opportunity to test your Black History knowledge for some great prizes!

Film Recommendations: From documentaries to dramas and historical biographies, each film recommendation will highlight various themes in Black History and Culture.

Trivia: Once a week during the month of February, we'll test your Black History knowledge with a trivia question. From those who answer correctly, we'll select a winner at random to receive a $50 dinner and movie gift card!

WEEK #1

- February One: The Story of the Greensboro Four (documentary, 2003)
- Race (biographical sports drama, 2016)
- Scottsboro: An American Tragedy (documentary, 2001)
- An Interview with the Founders of the Black Lives Matters movement (Ted Talk, 2016)
- Southside With You (feature film, 2016)
- Fruitvale Station (feature film, 2013)
- 42 (biographical sports drama, 2013)

WEEK #2

- Selma (feature film, 2014)
- Red Tails (feature film, 2012)
- 13th (documentary, 2016)
- A Raisin In The Sun (feature film, 1961)
- Loving (feature film, 2016)
- Talk to Me (feature film, 2007)
- UMBC President Freeman Hrabowski on the 4 Pillars of College Success in Science (Ted Talk, 2013)

WEEK #3

- Belle (feature film, 2013)
- Fences (feature film, 2016)
- Barry (feature film, 2016)
- Marcus Garvey: Look For Me in the Whirlwind (documentary, 2001)
- Birth Of A Nation (feature film, 1915 and 2016)
- Malcom X (feature film, 1992)
- Color Blind or Color Brave? (Ted Talk, 2014)

WEEK #4

- Moonlight (feature film, 2016)
- The Color Purple (feature film, 1985)
- Freedom Riders (documentary, 2010)
- Step (documentary, 2017)
- Hidden Figures (feature film, 2016)
- Nothing But a Man (feature film, 1964)
- The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks (feature film, 2017)